United Church Homes and Services Takes Resident-Centered Approach to Dining

As an elementary school principal and teacher, Beverly White ate a lot of institutional fare in school cafeterias. When she moved to Abernethy Laurels, she hoped the food wouldn't be the same. White hasn't been disappointed. "It's far, far above what I had expected," she says. "In my time here, I have been particularly impressed with the menu." Read more »

Annual Meeting Will Help Members Plan for Growth

Growth comes in many forms – from enhanced or new services to revenue. Bottom line: It's important, even for nonprofits. That's the message Lisa McCracken, Ziegler's senior vice president of senior living research and development, wants to share during CHHSM's annual meeting March 2-4 in Milwaukee, Wisconsin. Consecre Embraces New Name, Brand

How do you spell it? What does it mean? These are just some of the questions Susan Sinderson and her team heard regularly when they said the name of their organization, Consecre. Read more »

FROM THE PRESIDENT

CHHSM Annual Meeting Builds Bridges

As our country, society, political parties and the whole world move out of a hugely divisive election cycle and into a new administration in Washington D.C., let's take some time away while we gather in Milwaukee for the 79th CHHSM Annual Meeting. Read more »
